If you've been a victim of crime, share your experiences to help others in the future.

Merseyside’s Police Commissioner and her Victims’ Champion want to hear your views on how they can improve some support services for victims of crime in our region.

Why are we consulting?

From April 2015, Jane Kennedy and her Deputy Commissioner, Cllr Ann O’Byrne, will take responsibility for commissioning some support services for victims of crime in Merseyside from the Ministry of Justice.

Through this consultation, Jane and Ann want to listen to your views, identify which support services are working well and where you think more support might be needed. Your views and feedback are really important - they will help to shape the services that are provided for victims in the future.

To improve this support, we want to know what support most helped you when you were recovering from a criminal offence. We want to hear what services helped you to recover and whether you felt adequate support was provided when you needed it most. Importantly, we want to learn what services you think should be available in the future.

Please complete a paper printout of this questionnaire and post it to:

Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Merseyside,
Allerton Police Station,
